Profile

Dave has worked in television as an Offline and Online / Finishing Editor for over 15 years. In that time he has gained extensive experience in both short-form and longform programming. He has cut many stylish, slick and punchy promos for clients such as Discovery and ESPN as well as complex narrative-driven long-form content and entertainment for broadcasters such as the BBC, Fox, Sky and Channel 4.

He strives to enhance and craft his edits and bring the best out of the footage available, whether this be through storytelling, cutting to music, adding effects, or sound design. He has the benefit of originally specialising in online and graphics which enables him to see an edit from offline through to the final grade. Clients love working with Dave – he is fast, creative and generally an easy guy to be in an edit suite with! He has a positive attitude on all the projects he works on, which combined with his extensive skills, makes him very popular.
