

Duncan Hill

Avid Offline Editor

Profile

Duncan has years of professional editing experience and is versatile, calm and confident. With a love of music (playing the guitar and drums) he started his editing career in music based projects, particularly excelling in multi-cam music performances.

Utilising a strong visual flair, he went on to cut many different genres and as early as 2004 was nominated for 'Best Young Editor' at the Broadcast Awards. Harnessing a strong narrative instinct, coupled with a meticulous attitude towards music and pacing, Duncan has gone on to specialise in documentaries and drama documentaries, thriving on the adventure of finding new ways to tell a story.
