

Jack Holden

Premiere, Avid and AfterFX Editor

Profile

Jack is a content-driven fast editor who prides himself on blending technical knowledge with a drive to create television that informs and surprises. He is as comfortable working on flagship factual series such as "How the Universe Works" as he is on news/current affairs "The Listening Post" and short form pieces which require taking a programme from brief to clocked TX master.

As well as Avid, he has comprehensive knowledge of Premiere Pro and FCP, and experience with After Effects. He also is an experienced camera operator and drone owner/operator.

Long Form

"Auschwitz Untold: In Colour" 1 x 86min. Focusing on the incredible stories of 12 concentration camp survivors, this film will be broadcast as part of the commemorations for the 75th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz on January 27, 1945. Directed by BAFTA-winner David Shulman.
Fulwell 73 for History Channel & Channel 4

"The Tonight Show" 1 x 30min current affairs show. Seven billion pounds has already been spent on Britain's controversial North-South high-speed rail link, but will the project be abandoned?
