Paul Bussey

Avid Offline and Symphony Online

Profile

Paul is a top-class editor, strong in both offline, online, grading and finishing to broadcast standard. He has experience across many genres but stands out in large-scale entertainment and competition format series. His passion is working on comedy / drama and programming where he can really bring his skills and talent for structure and narrative to the screen. Excelling in music programming and performances, he has worked with some of the best directors in the field who request his creative skills again and again. Not only this, he is incredibly easy to work with and builds up a great rapport with all his clients.
