

Rob Trela

Avid Offline/Premiere Editor

Profile

Having recently moved over from the States, Rob has years of experience cutting US entertainment and factual series where he has built up an excellent reputation as an editor. Now based in the UK he is keen to further his career in editing, although they can't quite let him go from across the pond yet and he dips in and out with his old clients working remotely too! He is an intelligent, hardworking and artistic editor with a great collaborative team spirit and is often lead editor on series for this reason. He is great at cutting to a fast turnaround and that fast paced flashy US style we all know and love, however he always cuts with the story in mind. He knows when something needs to move and when it needs to breathe, and really enjoys situations where the story demands a slower pace. He is a perfectionist, yet not at the expense of speed and efficiency and an all round great guy to work with.
