

Anny Fisher Avid Offline Editor

Profile

Anny is a creative and passionate editor with extensive experience cutting a range of genres and formats from feature documentaries to factual entertainment and fast paced sizzles and trailers. She has a strong track record of working as the lead editor on first series and new concepts, most of which have been commissioned for a second series.

In addition to being an amazing editor, Anny has a brilliant rapport with whoever she works with. Her positive, upbeat personality and enthusiasm make her a first choice for many clients. She's always open to new ideas, loves working as a team to collaborate and is brilliant with narrative, even picking out bits from a story that the director might not have noticed. Anny loves using music and pace to creatively enhance visual storytelling and strives to make even her first cuts the best they can be.
